

E SQUARED

Military Performance Products

Extreme Berry Amendment Compliant performance products that meet or exceed military specifications.

E Squared's line of Berry Amendment Compliant military coated fabrics meet or exceed military specifications. Applications include Primary and Secondary Containment, as well as personnel and equipment protection. Specific end items include: Collapsible Storage Bladders (for fuel/hydrocarbons and potable water); berm liners; ground cloths and spill containment booms; and tarpaulins, including but not limited to Mil-PRF-20696F and A-A-55308; to shield personnel and various equipment.

These products utilize our custom designed compounds that exploit the latest in polymer and fabric technologies available. Whether IR or UV requirements, dead load and cold crack standards, our products are engineered for maximum performance in the field.

E Squared DOD approved laboratories continue to work directly with fabricators and military facilities to provide products that will meet the new demands and expectations of our military.
